

Naomi Smith

United States. Very strict rules are needed to make sure toxic chemicals are removed and that the water is continually monitored for violations. Otherwise I will assume that the food grown in Texas is toxic and will only buy food produced outside of this state.